ABOUT

Non-Traditional opportunities include subjects like Geology, Engineering, Apologetics, Astronomy and Logic.

All of these opportunities include labs or exercises that will be geared toward the proper age group or grade level. Labs are crucial and are required for high school students, if they are to attend higher education after high school. At Beheld the Serpent S.T.E.A.M Academy, we emphasize and require a lot of hands on with the equipment, so the student becomes very proficient in order to conduct their labs independently. All opportunities meet or exceed Next Generation Science Standards (NGSS).

Non-Traditional opportunities are typically 34-36 weeks for a full semester and 18 weeks for a half semester. Students meet once a week for 1 or 1.5 hours to cover the chapter material and execute the lab/exercises. Parents and guardians are responsible for proctoring worksheets, quizzes, exams and ensuring that the reading is completed. Students are expected to have at least read the chapter prior to the lab or activity session. Lab reports, if any can be brought to the lab session for completion and taken home for validation and correction.

Communications will be primarily by email. This can be any email that either the student or parent will monitor. All assignments and messages will be sent via email.

These opportunities use a biblical apologetic-based established curriculum text that will equate to 1 full credit. Parents can lease a discounted electronic version from Beheld the Serpent or purchase their own copy of the curriculum.

Beheld the Serpent S.T.E.A.M Academy uses the Carnegie unit system as its guideline for accreditation. See our Credit Accreditation Guideline below for more details.

The minimum students required to host an opportunity is 6 with a maximum of 12 students allowed.
